BROADEN VENDORS' CODE; HITS HOUSE-TO-HOUSE SELLERS

New Amendment Adds Ice, Bakery Goods and Dairy Products

House to house peddlers and vendors of ice, dairy products and bakery goods also must pay.

Thus it was decreed by the Antioch | ceived. village board Thursday in an amendment to an old ordinance governing lage. The original code passed April 17, 1917, stipulated a fee of $25 a year for license to peddle fruits, vegetables and other food stuffs. and other food stuffs. The amendment passed Thursday night broadens the existing ordinance to include ice, dairy and bakery products. The ordinance goes into effect today.

The code is designed to protect local dealers from competiton, mostly seasonal business, and as a health measure to protect buyers from purchasing uninspected products.

In some respects the present amended code takes the place of the "truck vendors'" ordinance which was repealed a year ago when local merthat the "truck vendors" ordinance ran cago. with peddlers who gobble up a good Lake. portion of the seasonal business.

the sale of foodstuffs. Will Collect Vehicle Tax

The patience of the board in the matter of collecting village vehicle tax is about exhausted, it is indicated by a notice they have caused to be published in this edition of the News.

Money collected for the vehicle tags is turned into the road and bridge fund for the upkeep of streets, and this is one fund that requres continual income in order that the work may continue throughout the year.

At great cost to te village, but none to preperty owners direct, all unpayed and unsurfaced streets in the village were treated to a coat of roadoil yesterday and today. Residents along the pavement and black-top coated streets are already enjoying dustless days as they have been for years, the trustees say, and the oiling of streets should not be regarded as a direct favor to property owners along unpaved streets.

Notables Attend Lions Club Meeting

President Ernest Beaumont of the Central Lions club, of Chicago, and Jack Little (Brooks Lake) sports writer for the Chicago Evening American, were guests of the Antioch Lions club at a meeting held Monday night at the home of C. K. Anderson at Lake Catherine.

Beaumont heads the largest Lions club in the world-the Central of Chicago. He gave an aspirational talk adn commended the local club for its achievements and splendid civic spirit, and Brooks Lake offered constructive suggestions for further popularizing the lakes region. The prominent sports and outdoor writer likes the locality so well that he has elected to make hs summer home at Petite lake, which enables him to be right in the center of summer sports.

President Deering appointed additional committees for te summer festival adn plans were inagugurated for the second annual event to be held here August 11, 12 adn 13.

Lion Anderson served a splendid steak dinner to the 40 or more men present and turned the price of the feed back into the club treasury.

LIONS PLANNING FOR BIGGER AND BETTER FESTIVAL

Attendance Is Expected to Exceed Last Year's at Fete Aug. 11-13

An even larger attendance than the 15,000 persons who thronged Antioch during the three-day festival sponsored by the Lions club August 12, 13 and 14 last year is expected to be on hand for this summer's "bigger and better" fete. August 11, 12 and 13 are the dates set.

Last year's festival was lots of fun, it will be recalled, with a "shorts parade," a 3,000-pound ox barbecue, a water fight featuring the best firemen's teams in Lake county, a bathing beauty contest, carnival features and free dancing among its myriad attractions,

Even more delightful and more amusing will be the events of this year's festival, according to plans now being laid by the committees Dr. D. N. Deering, recently elected president, has appointed.

Prepare for 20,000 If advance interest is any indication, the Lions should be prepared to accommodate about 20,000 festival visipays $22 a year in federal taxes, which is about the Lincoln: amount of income tax paid by a man wth an income of $3,800 a year provided he is married and has one child."

Here is something for the average citizen to think about. There are many demagogues who tell us not to worry about taxes, for the administration at Washington will see that they are paid by the rich. The statement in the above paragraph is evidence that this is not true. A great many persons smoke cigarettes who are not in the income tax brackets. But even at that, each is paying as much tax as the married man who has an income of $3,800 a year. And if one is in the income tax paying class, then this cigarette tax is just one little addition.

But the cigarette tax is not all. The gasoline user pays "through the nose" at a rate of which he little dreams. There are other taxes of this kind. But in addition we all pay indirectly in the way of higher prices for rent, food, clothing, street car fares, gas, electricity, telephone and so on down the line. No administration can pass the taxes on to the rich man. The consumer must pay and, if he is a poor consumer, as most of us are, he pays many times more than his just share. Don't be sucker enough to think that government spending is nice because the rich have to pay for it. You are doing far more than your just share of the paying yourself, and it can't be helped unless we cut down on the spending.

Taxation-Not a Race

The time seems to be rapidly passing when those who used to point to the English as a group with a higer tax burden than ours will have any cause for satisfaction.

Though it was hollow comfort at best to know that others were having more trouble than we were, it has now been definitely proved that there is increasingly less truth

A recent study proves this by tracing the relative growth of taxes in the United Kingdom and the United States. Starting in 1913, they have risen 430 per cent in the case of the United Kingdom, and 640 per cent in the case of our own country.

This taxing race has proceeded fairly evenly until 1924. At that point the United States began to forge ahead. And today, between heavy spending and the taxation that ensues, we are in danger of reaching a point where it may be said, as was the case at a very famous boat race of happier memory:

"The Americans are first-and there is no second!"

Everyone admits these days the important part that | Miss Perkins says that the political issue next year

dress shop of Antioch and modeled ROBOT BLOODHOUND OPENS NEW ERA IN CRIME DETECTION

Convicts Man by Placing Him At Scene of Killing By Footprints.

NEW YORK .-- A revolution in the technique of crime detection loomed as a newly perfected "robot bloodhound" unerringly tracked down a murderer and turned him over to the electric chair.

Sure he had an unbreakable alibi, Anton Myslivec, 54-year-old prison graduate, laughed at authorities when they first arrested him for the murder of William Dobitz, 55, a Long Island contractor, to whose wife Myslivec had been attentive. But his confidence collapsed when, in a surprise move, District Attorney Fred Munder placed before . Suffolk county trial jury the "testimony" of the crime-detection machine.

Myslivec had contended he was in Jamaica, L. I., miles away, on the night of November 21, last, when Dobitz, stepping out the door of his Farmingville, L. I., home to investigate the barking of a watch-dog, was fatally wounded by a blast of slugs from a hidden shotgun.

New Type of Spectroscope. The "robot bloodhound"-actually a new and improved type of spectrograph-testified otherwise. According to the mechanical witness, Myslivec was standing that night in the exact spot from which, by po-

But the "robot bloodhound," unlike his four-legged rival, doesn't have to have footprints. It can track its man down through dust that sifts into clothing, or that lodges in the cuff of a trouser leg! And the evidence it gives is strong enough-or was in the Myslivec case, at least-to convince a jury.

Sentenced to Chair. Convicted of murder in the first degree, Myslivec was sentenced by Judge L. Marron Hill to die in Sing

Sing's electric chair. In crisp, every day language the city chemist told how he had made spectrographic comparisons of the soil beside the woodshed and of the dirt clinging to Myslivec's shoes. Showing the spectrographic plates, he explained how each set of lines meant a different element in the soil. Painstakingly he identified each of 44 separate elements to the jury-among them nickel, copper, and even a trace of gold. The expert told the jury:

"Any bit of soil might contain as many elements-or more. Butthere is no bit of soil anywhere that would contain precisely the same elements, in precisely the same proportion." Just as proof the jury was shown the spectrograph of soil from the front of the Dobitz home. It no more resembled the spectrograph of the dirt from the slayer's shoes than a Rembrandt resembles a "stop and go" sign. On the other hand, the spectrograph of the backyard soil and the shoe scrapings matched ex-

Pieces of spring steel are imbedded in a concrete block sunk deep into the earth. Atop these threefoot steel bars are weights of 350 pounds giving them a construction similar to an inverted pendulum.

When the earth quivers, these tempered steel bars pick up the shock and begin to vibrate. The vibrations are then recorded on the paper drums by means of attached arms which magnify the intensity of the vibrations so they may be interpreted easily. Attached to a plumb-bob string is a ring similar to those sought by merry-go-round riders. Suspended through the center of this ring is a brass rod. The slightest quake

REHOBOAM: A MAN WHO MADE A FOOLISH CHOICE

LESSON TEXT—I Kings 12:1-5, 12-17, 20.
GOLDEN TEXT—A man's pride shall bring him low.—Proverbs 29:23.

"He did evil because he prepared not his heart to seek the Lord"life of Rehoboam as given in II tures at the community hall. Chronicles 12:14.

But since there is only One who has all the knowledge, who can see the end from the beginning, who has Nellie Runyard. all the power to make His decisions effective, it is obviously folly of the highest degree to do without His holy guidance, especially since God is willing to give it without money and without price even to the humblest believer.

Men and women, let us not follow Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dahl. the foolishness of Rehoboam. Let us seek first God's kingdom and His righteousness, and then we are assured that everything else shall be added unto us (Matt. 6:33).

The picture before us is astonishingly up-to-date. People were crying for relief from tax burdens. One group of leaders counseled modera- Mrs. Charles Oetting and Louis Oettion; another group, said in effect, tax them all you can and keep on spending. The king, who in a mon-archy had the final decree in his and Mrs. Doris Fox and son, Pleaspower, replied to the plea of the ant Prairie, spent the Fourth with people with the 900 B. not the people for the government. Political leaders seem to forget this axiom and begin to rule as though they need not listen to the reasonable pleas of the people. Tax burdens rise, regimentation of the life of the nation takes place, and sooner or later the people rise to overthrow the government. It happened in Rome, it was back of the French Revolution, it brought an uprising of the serfs of Russia, it can and will happen elsewhere if men who rule do not listen to reason.

Rehoboam made at least one wise decision-to wait three days before speaking and to seek counsel. He needed this, for having been brought up in the palace of Solomon, without proper training for his place as king, he was quite unable to make immediate answer to their request. Incidentally, we note that much of the folly of Rehoboam is chargeable to the neglect of his father to rear him properly. May that terrible thing never be said about you and me regarding our children.

II. An Unreasonable Refusal (vv. 12-15)

The picture of the two groups of advisers is a most graphic one and should afford the teacher an excel-lent opportunity to show young people especially, how important it is to heed the counsel of their elders. Even so youth stands today at the fork of the road. Let us in all kindness, love, and tact seek to help them choose the right way.

III. The Inevitable Revolt (vv. 16, 17, 20).

The people, long submissive and apparently servile, ultimately come to the point where they think, and when they do, dictatorial rulers tumble from their self-made thrones. Would that the people of the earth realized the power which they have and that they would use it for the glory of God. Rehoboam felt the power of the people who revolted, others have followed him, for it is still true in the world that the rulers "do evil" because "they prepare not their hearts to seek the Rehoboam, who had awaited the arrival of this crucial hour in anticipation of taking his place as the king of the ten tribes, was ready, and was at once chosen as the leader of those who withdrew from the rule of the house of David. Rehoboam's sin brought this about, but it was also in the counsels of God (v. 15). As Alexander Maclaren expresses it, "... the historian draws back the curtain. On earth stand the insolent king and mutinous people, each driving at their ends, and neither free of sin and selfishness. A stormy sea of people, without thought of God, rages below, and above sits the Lord, working His great purpose by men's sin. That divine control does not in the least affect the freedom or the responsibility of the actors. Rehoboam's disregard of the people's terms was 'a thing brought about of the Lord,' but it was Rehoboam's sin none the

Cannibals Hunted

Disturbing reports have been re-ceived in Port Moresby, Papua, that in remote Rossel island cannibalism is being revived. Recently the islanders began to study the English language and gave evidence that the ways of the white men were making themselves felt. English explorers, however, have found signs on the island indicating that cannibalism is being practiced again in the wilder parts. There is some doubt that it ever was wholly stamped out. Rossel island was once the scene of the worst cannibal outrage ever known, more than 300 Chinese shipwrecked on their way to Australia being slain and devoured.

Twins Puzzle Doctors Medical men of London who have been studying Gangabai and Gourabai, Hindu girls from Mysore, In-dia, who are joined together Siamese style, declare the girls' personalities and brains are independent, but most of their nerves are common. Should one cut or burn herself the other feels the injury. Gourabai may have a cough, Gangabai will feel the strain in her throat. When one embroiders and comes to the end of her silk the other will automatically hand her the scissors. While they have much in common they are not automatic in their likes and dislikes. Gangabai likes tea; Gourabai prefers coffee.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Sacrament" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday,

The Golden Text was, "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me" (Psalms

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Then said Jesus unto his disciples, if any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake shall find it" (Matthew 16:24, 25).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Are all who eat bread and drink wine in memory of Jesus willing truly to drink his cup, take his cross, and leave all for the Christ-principle? . . . If Christ, Truth, has come to us in demonstration, no other commemoration is requisite, for demonstration is Immanuel. or God with us" (pp 33, 34)

ITO STAGE BLACK AND WHITE SHOW SATURDAY

The annual Black and White Production Show, sponsored by the Kenosha Co. Holstein Breeders' Association, will be held at Woodworth on Saturday, July 15.

The program will get under way it 10:00 A. M. with the Classification of the cattle by Glen Householder, Director of the Extension Department National Holstein-Friesian Association of America.

Other events on the program include judging contests, milkmaids' contest, tug of war for both men and women, awarding of attendance prizes and the Registered Holstein heifer from the B. J. Gillmore and. Sons

Free milk will be served by the Holstein Club. Other refreshments can be obtained on the grounds.

The Bristol Community band, Ralph James, director, will furnish music during the afternoon.

People attending the show will have an opportunity to see the exhibits of the Farm Accounts and Dairy Records Department of the University of Wisconsin College of Agriculture and the Wisconsin State Dairymen's Association. This will be a splendid opportunity to discuss those farm management and dairy herd problems with Glen Vergeront, Roy T. Harris and Art Thomson. Kenosha County implement dealers are cooperating with the Holstein club, and will have a display of farm machinery and dairy equipment on the grounds.

The following committees are making arrangements for the show: Publicity-Les White, E. V. Ryall, Milo Hills.

Border Patrol Is Real Tough

Smuggling Gangs Stopped By Efficiency of Federal Agents

DETROIT .- The rip-roaring United States border patrol that once fought smugglers and alien criminals has developed into a well-oiled machine too dangerous to penetrate, according to Ruel E. Davenport, patrol supervisor of the Eighth dis-

Skirmishes with gunmen and wild speedboat chases on the Canada-United States international boundary have become rare in recent years, mainly because the border guards are "just too tough."

Davenport, once national head of the border patrol and veteran of the Mexican boundary, said the efficiency of the modern "smuggler police zoomed upward in the latter twenties, when college graduates, doctors, lawyers and engineers came into the service seeking a secure

Two-Way Radio Used.

"Then when two-way radio was installed in our patrol boats and cars, communication became so direct that an alien reported sneaking across the border was picked up immediately," Davenport said.

The district's radio laboratory-factory is so efficient that it supplies border patrol sending and receiving sets for the entire nation. A border "hot spot" is on the Deisle when the river is frozen, Davenport said: Aliens flock across the ice from Canada to the island, then make their way into Detroit, where they mingle with their own nationalities. Close watching prevents a serious influx, however.

The Eighth district, covering most of Michigan and parts of Indiana and Ohio, has its headquarters in Detroit. Subdistrict bases are in strategic shoreline cities from Toledo to Sault Ste. Marie.

Espionage Brings Results.

If a strange boat comes into a small port along the border the closest patrol post is notified and either a squad car or one of the district's six Chris-craft speedboats is dispatched to investigate. If rowboats are known to be slipping across the river at Detroit with cargoes of aliens two "fishermen" are sent jury in the midst of the traffic maelfrom headquarters to mingle with strom . . . Undercover men also are on the job, both here and in Canada. Smugglers often are discovered at the point they pick up the goods. A quick call to the tunnel, bridge or ferry they are to use gives the border patrol time enough to lay the trap. When the smuggler crosses the boundary he is caught with the goods, feeling not so smug.

The border patrol's duty, according to Davenport, is to watch the one night he was on his way to back door" on the international borders. Last year in district eight tor. ### Bible Class in S6 Years Has Only Two Teachers HOLIDAYSBURG, PA.—The Jud-son Bible class is celebrating its ninety-sixth anniversary.

The class, which held its first meeting May 7, 1843, is connected with the First Baptist church here. Capt. Alexander M. Lloyd organized the group and served as its teacher until March, 1892.

Since that time, the Judson class has had only one other teacher. He is Thomas H. Suckling-a Holidaysburg merchant-who took over the class 47 years ago.

Today, there are about 400 former members of the Bible school in Blair county and many other scattered throughout the United States.

OROFINO, IDAHO .- A pet dog led rescuers to Mrs. Ed Luttrop, 69, who had fallen 100 feet into an abandoned lime pit. The woman suffered such severe injuries in the fall that she was unable to extricate herself.

The dog returned to the house several times before members of Mrs. Luttrop's family followed it to the pit and found the woman.

Not only did she sell her first story but her success continued, the de-mand for her work being greater than she could supply. A year ago, she met a young artist. A few months later they were married. They are still supremely happy, in fact, quite mad about each other. There is just one drawback. Ever since she met the man she married, she hasn't been able to write one love story an editor would accept.

Illegal: Beggars, venders, musicians and bootblacks have found the subways a fertile field of endeavor for quite some time. Rush hours they did not work for the simple reason that they could not pass among the losely packed passen-gers. But at other times they have proffered their wares, solicited alms, shined shoes and even put on concerts and collected, the collection in each instance of course being important. He recalls the time when having played his fourth benefit in at the theater, they found that everybody had left. But they had a great routine prepared and didn't want to waste it. So they called in the door man and went through the entire sketch for him. Both claim that though he was their smallest audience never had they had one more appreciative.

Don't Stop Me: The story is making the rounds concerning the actor who was reading a new book about Lincoln. Lucille Manners, the soprano, had read the book and to make conversation, during an idle few minutes in a rehearsal, started to talk to the actor about it.

"It's a swell book, isn't it?" remarked Miss Manners. "Have you come to the part yet where Lincoln was assassinated?'

"Don't tell me!" shouted the actor. "Do you want to spoil the story?"

End Plece: When Milt Herth moved to his present apartment, neighbors seeing his electric organ being carried in and knowing his reputation as a swing organist, believed themselves in for a lot of sleepless nights. So imagine their surprise when they learned that Milt, when home, plays only the softest and sweetest church hymns. He used to be a church organist back in Kenosha, Wis., and likes the hymns because they remind him of old days.

occasion warrants. Iced tea is a summer standby, and properly prepared it's truly delicious. Follow these simple rules for making it, if you like to serve to your family and your guests the clear, sparkling, faintly fragrant tea that's delightfully refreshing.

Iced Tea.

1. Rinse teapot with boiling water. 2. Place tea in teapot-allowing one teaspoon of tea per cup to be made.

3. Pour freshly boiling water over the tea leaves.

4. Allow tea to steep-not boilfor 3 to 5 minutes according to strength desired.

5. Cool hot tea infusion quickly by pouring it over a generous supply of chipped ice.

6. Serve at once. Lemon slices or a sprig of mint may be used as an accompaniment if desired. Ginger Julep.

Why be a Ham in Carving One? Expert Shows Easy, Modern Way

If they snicker when you start to carve, you'll be comforted by these kind words from Max O. Cullen, carving authority. "It's easy to learn the right way, and the right way is the easy way," says Cullen, who is shown at the right explaining to Pete Smith, producer of motion picture shorts bearing his name, and Ann Morriss, M-G-M player, the fundamentals of carving a ham, during the recent filming of "Culinary Carving," an educational short in which Cullen was featured.

Proper tools and a sharp knife are of first importance, says the expert. Then you can proceed with confidence, if you will follow his simple directions as shown by the diagrams and instructions below.

1. Place ham with fat side up, shank end to carver's right. Cut two or three slices parallel to the length of the ham from the smaller menty section.

Turn the ham so that it rests on the cut surface. Holding firmly with the fork, cut a small wedge shaped piece from the shank end. Then proceed to cut thin slices down to the leg bone until the aitch bone is reached.

3. With the fork still in place, release the slices by running the knife along the bone and at right angles to the slices. For additional servings, turn and carve other side of ham.

4. If more servings are required, the ham is turned back in its original position on the platter with the fat side up and the slices are carved at right angles to the bone. These slices are not so large as those from the cushion section, but they make attractive servings for second helpings.

Aristotle Knew Birds

Aristotle was one of the first mer. to discuss bird migration. He made many true statements regarding migration, but also sponsored some superstitions that persisted for centuries. He believed, for instance, that certain birds hibernated during cold weather, because he was unable to go in and which ones to be to explain their disappearance and taken out instead of pondering the reappearance in any other way.

Palestine History

At the beginning of the World war Palestine had been in the hands of the Moslems since 1244 and under the rule of the Turks since 1517. It was conquered by British troops during the latter part of 1917 and when the Turkish empire was broken up by the peace treaty Great Britain was given a mandate over the Holy Land. A civil government under a British high commissioner was established in 1920.

VALUATIONS
The assessment roll for the Town of Antioch, as fixed by the assessor, appears in this and the following section of today's issue of the Antioch News. Every resident of the Town of Antioch, should make it a point to check up on the amount of his assessment.
This is Quadrennial Assessment year, and the valuations fixed this year by the assessor will be the basis of taxes for the next four years. Any 'nronerty owner who objects to the amount of his valuation should file a formal complaint with the board of review during the months of July and August.

SUGGESTS ELECTRIC FARM WATERWORKS

North Carolina System Costs About $100.

By RUSSELL BROADDUS
A water system can be installed in the farm home for as little as $100 with the advent of rural electrification throughout the United

New opportunities for installing labor and time-saving equipment are offered farm people at a price they can afford to pay, the North Carolina State college has found. The first essential in a water system is a good clean wholesome tem is a good, clean, wholesome supply in a quantity sufficient for the farm and home needs. A well should be located at least 50 feet from any possible source of contamination.

To keep a water supply clean and free from harmful bacteria, the well should have rock masonry, brick or terra cotta walls from bottom to top. In many cases driven or bored wells with iron castings are quite satisfactory. All wells should have tight, properly-made concrete plat-forms to keep out surface water.

An electric water system will provide 1,000 gallons of water per hour for three cents when the electric rate is six cents a kilowatt hour. In many cases the small amount of electric current used to pump water will not increase the monthly bill above the minimum charge.

The college recommends that the farm family first install an outlet to the kitchen sink and another to the barn for watering live stock.

He says this can be done for approximately $100. The system can be enlarged as finances permit.

The average farm laborer earns from 20 to 30 cents an hour for his work. Why then should the farmer's family work carrying water at the rate of one-half cent per hour?

Opportunities Offered

In Homemade Equipment Homemade equipment is only for persons who have ideas of their own. A farmer usually sees a neighbor's wagon, inspects it, and goes home to build one for himself, or lets his son do it.

Also, say engineers at the New York State College of Agriculture, rubber-tired tractors have convinced farmers of the practicability of rubber-mounted equipment.

In their opinion, a start toward bringing all the equipment up-todate is the farm wagon which can be made easily and will cost about $35, without box or rack. Auto running gear, preferably with 600-16 tires, lends itself to easy tire replacement when the wagon is heavily loaded.

The advantages of tires are lost, it is said, with more than 25 pounds pressure in them. Used tires are satisfactory if the wagon is used on the farm and not behind a truck or car on the highway. If used on the road as a trailer, New York state law requires that it be equipped with brakes, lights, and a license.

Ensilage carts that push easily over litter and other obstructions may be made at a cost of from $20 to $25 for material and labor, according to the engineers. A sturdy handy cart for carrying milk cans may be made from old auto wheels, he says.

Suggest Caustic Potash

To Remove Cow Horns In the wild state, cows may have needed their horns for defense, but under modern conditions they are of no practical value except from the standpoint of beauty, say Washington State college dairymen, who recommend that horns be removed from calves at an early age.

Horns may be removed with caustic when the calf is about a week old. Caustic potash in sticks may be used for this purpose. Tie the. animal securely then clip an area over and around the horn "button" about the size of a half dollar. Cover this area with vaseline to prevent the caustic from burning beyond the horn area.

Wrap one end of the caustic in paper to prevent burning the fingers of the operator. Place the stick of caustic over the center of the horn button and rub with a circular motion until the caustic has gone through the skin and into the center of the horn button. Some practice is necessary to achieve the best re-

Do not turn the calf out in the rain for a day or two and do not allow other calves to lick the treated horn

Turning Eggs

Some authorities assert that when eggs are hatched in an incubator they should be turned three or more times a day from the third to the eighteenth day. Be sure the hands are clean and free from oil or grease when the eggs are turned. If hatched under a hen, this handling is unnecessary as the hen will take care of the necessary moving. However, all hatching eggs should be candled on the seventh day and all infertile eggs removed.

Vacuum Cleaner With

Clean Dust Bag Best A vacuum cleaner with a clean dust bag does the best cleaning job, studies at Purdue university experiment station show. For best service the bag should be emptied after each daily use. Never wash the bag, as that destroys the finish that keeps it dustproof.

How much dust a machine draws from a rug, the studies indicate depends partly on how fast it is pushed back and forth. Most machines clean best if they are moved at a speed of from one to two feet a second.

Naturally, the machine should not be allowed to pick up pins, tacks, or glass because these sharp objects may poke holes in the bag or chip the fan blades.

It is also desirable to keep the machine in a clean place, protected from dirt and dust.

Within reasonable limits, there cannot be too many appliance outlets in the kitchen. In this room electricity is used both for lighting and for motivating power.

Consumption of current varies widely with kitchen appliances, and special attention should be given to the load the outlet is expected to

SUGGESTS SEEDING TOMATOES IN FIELD

Lower Cost Will Offset

Smaller Yields.

By W. A. HUELSEN
Seeding tomatoes directly in the field thus eliminating the expense of transplanting has considerable commercial promise, according to the college of agriculture, University of Illinois, Urbana.

Experiments conducted by the agricultural college last year compar-ing direct seeding with transplanting in the usual way showed only a slight increase in yields in favor of the transplanted tomatoes. However, this advantage is more than compensated by the lower cost of direct seeding.

Interplanting tomatoes with field corn is another new and novel method of growing tomatoes, a method that protects the tomato fruits from sun scald. In experiments conducted at Urbana by the college of agriculture, tomatoes planted the usal way in 1938 produced a total of 7.6 tons an acre. The interplanted tomatoes produced 4.7 tons of tomatoes and 55 bushels of shelled corn an acre. The acre income was $87.60 for the tomatoes planted in the usual way and $81.50 for the interplanted acre, valueing corn at 45 cents a bushel. Additional tests indicate the importance of early planting. Tomatoes planted on May 12 produced 10 tons an acre, but when setting was delayed until June 5, the yields dropped to four and one-half tons an acre. Still later plantings re-

On many farms the brood sows have had the alfalfa hay which they need to put pep into little pigs. Calves have been wintered cheaply and with good gains, largely because good legume hay was a big part of the feed. Plentiful pasture favors continued success with the

The division of animal pathology and hygiene at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, Ur- | er, who had reported his loss. bana, offers this advice for protecting horses and mules from sleeping sickness: In infected areas, keep the animals in screened stables. Use burlap or muslin fly covers on animals at work and spray them with an insect repellant. Keep stables clean. Vaccinate animals early, so they will develop a strong immunity. Staff members of the division said only about one of every four animals in an exposed area develops the disease and about eight of every ten infected horses can be saved with prompt treatment.

The disease is seasonal, appearing in July or August and continuing until the first killing frost. It is believed to be carried by mosquitoes, although biting flies also are suspected of transmitting it.

The bodies of two bucks, in a wellpreserved condition as a result of the frigid atmosphere, were found by John McClain, a rancher, with their horns locked together.

McClain reported the deer battled over a half-acre of ground until one buck died, his antlers intertwined with those of his adversary. The first warrior to die slipped into an arrovo, McClain theorized, with his ture showed that pasture averaged | hind legs barely touching the ground.

The victor held his victim suspended until he, too, succumbed from exhaustion, after being unable to free himself.

Shipping Cashew Nut Until 1923 cashew nuts were considered among the most risky foods to ship because so often they were attacked by vermin. In that year shippers adopted the process of replacing part of the air in packing cans with carbon dioxide or some other inert gas. The girls stood back to back, in regular dueling custom. Each was armed with a previously agreed weapon. Each burned with a hope that her aim would be as true as her convictions.

Seconds and judges held their breath as the girls moved apart the prescribed five paces. 'Incre was no doctor on the scene. Suddenly the girls turned and let fly with the weapons they carried. One missed, but the other, who claimed she had been insuited, didn't. She hurled a dripping chocolate p.e. squarely into the face of her opponent. The winner was Miss Anna Holstead of Shreveport. Her opponent, who got plastered, was Miss Varnelle 'Piastow of Bay Shore, N. Y. Both are coeds at Louisiana Tech at Ruston, La., east of here in northeastern Louisiana, where the duel took place. Miss Holstead had objected to Miss Plastow's blunt description of her literary style. Her comment was: "Confidentially, it smells." That was enough, the duel was on.

Accompanied by a few students and seconds bearing towels, the duelists met behind the school stadium.

Prof. H. F. Hewins, one of the witnesses, said the girls got most of the drippy pies over themselves in taking them out of the tins and getting ready for the duel.

As Miss Holstead's pie flew straight to its mark, she cried, "touche," and a judge, another coed, declared her the winner. The affair marked Miss Holstead's farewell to the Tech campus for she was graduated the night before. Miss Plastow is a sophomore. They left the field of honor friends.

GIRL IS SERVING STRETCH IN PRISON BECAUSE OF LOVE

Attempted Holdup 'to Get Out Of Way' for Two to Win Happiness.

PADUCAH, KY.-Convicted of robbery, a young Chicago woman is serving a 10-year sentence in the Kentucky women's prison-because she wanted to "get out of the way" and let two other persons in a love triangle find happiness.

But relatives, friends and even state and city officials are joined in a move to obtain mercy and possible executive clemency from Gov.

A. B. ("Happy") Chandler.
The young woman is Ruth Strickland, 23. She came here from Chicago on a bus and four hours later was arrested for trying to hold up two women patrons in front of a theater with a toy gun.

Hides Identity. At the time of her arrest, she said her name was "Barbara Williams," but admitted the name was fictitious. She refused to reveal her true name or where she came from. She told police: "I wanted to be arrested. I want to go to jail." She refused to answer questions and when arraigned reiterated her plea to be sent to prison, saying: "I came here to commit a crime and get sent to jail so two friends of mine can be married. "You see, I'm in love with a man. And he's in love with another girl. Both of them feel obligated to me-never mind why-and I felt that as long as I was around they would never marry. His happiness is all that matters to me.

"If I disappear they can marry. However, I didn't bargain for a tenyear sentence."

DURANGO, COLO .- A 27-year-old bull elk which apparently concluded it was too old to forage for itself brought on its own death near here through sheer meanness. The huge old animal, believed one of a consignment of 23 calves brought here from the Jackson Hole country in Wyoming in 1912, took possession of a rancher's feed lot and allowed no other live stock or even the rancher to penetrate his well-provisioned domain. Game officials, called in to settle the dispute, observed the bull's stiffness, quarrelsomeness, and other indications of infirmity, and sent a bullet into its brain.

Police Chase Children

Lugging Away Foundry SAN FRANCISCO.-When W. A. Schimmelpfenning telephoned police that children were carrying away his foundry piecemeal they thought he was joking. But they investigated and found one nine-year-old girl in pigtails carrying off 200 pounds of pig iron; another girl, nine, staggering away with a huge casting; two boys with a coaster who admitted they had carried off two carloads of fishplates, and several other boys who shamefacedly admitted that they had succeeded in getting away with a ton of iron.
